Dear North San Diego County,

We founded Empowering Latino Futures to serve as an avenue for businesses, programs, educational institutions, and government entities to reach the Latino community easily. Our first program was a Latino Book & Family Festival—and we've held 69 since 1997. Our newest program is North County Informador, designed to get information and resources to an underserved audience. A team of community leaders, educators, librarians, and Award-Winning Authors have united to ensure that the Festival is well attended and that Informador reaches key audiences. Please join us in our work to empower underrepresented communities.
